The Platform.

The platform adopted calls for a revision of existing tariff laws; condemns the trusts, the increase in the expenditures of the Federal Government under Republican rule, and the encroachments of the President on the constitutional powers of Congress. It further calls for the investigation of the administrative departments at Washington and denounces the Republican party for its attempt to cover up the rottenness existing in the Postoffice Department.

With the exception of a reference to the dangers threatened in the person of Mr. Roosevelt, the platform touches directly on the chief points at issue in the coming campaign. On all these matters the Republican party will be on the defensive, with the Democrats having the advantage of attack. The handicap of 1896 and 1900 of endeavoring to win converts to new and untested theories has been removed. The party in Kentucky stands, as does the party of the nation, once more on sure ground. The principles enunciated are those on which its victories have been won and from which fresh successes will come in November. The character of the platform, together with the dominant note of the speeches before the convention, marks the passing of the division of Democrats into sound money men and free silverites. After eight years of misunderstanding and dissension, the party is again united. The platform is broad enough and safe enough for any man calling himself a Democrat, to accept without opposition or protest. Given a united support, they will again become the established principles and theories of national government, as well as of party doctrine. The field is open and the battle lines are drawn. The fight will bring the victory.

NO PARDONS.—Lieutenant Governor Thorne, on assuming the chair Wednesday in the absence of Gov. Beckham at St. Louis, announced that he would not consider applications for pardons. Governor Beckham and party will return to-day.

S. S. Brown at the old Kentucky Association grounds there. Barnes says that he has orders to spare neither pains nor expense in making a first-class racing plant in that city, and he believes from the present outlook the course there when completed will be the finest in the country. From present plans he will have the plant in readiness to give an early spring meeting next spring.

What MITCHELL Says

I want the people who read this paper to know that I sure have the best eating candy in Paris.

The chocolates I sell you for 40 cents per pound cannot be any better.

If you pay 60 or 80 cents you are paying for the fancy packing, of course I have candy we sell for 60 cents per pound and it is strictly fancy and fine, but I want to have every lover of good candy to try my 40 cent creams, always strictly fresh.

Don't forget to send me your orders for the only genuine Blue Lick Water. I am the wholesale agent for the springs, too, and can furnish it fresh at all times.

Yours truly,

C. B. MITCHELL.
